Travelers Take Note

Ferry and boat rides rely on daily sailing conditions, so weather may dictate itinerary changes or activity cancellations.

The variety of accommodations on Maine's islands is limited. Some hotels on this tour are therefore simpler than typical DuVine accommodations, but were chosen for their unique location and island proximity. There are a limited number of rooms available with two beds.

Tour By Day

DAY
1

Camden and Rockport

Meet your guides in Portland and transfer up the coast to the idyllic harbor of Camden. After a light lunch, get fitted on the bikes for our first ride following the coast. We'll spin through Rockport, one of the "prettiest small towns in America," as we make our way to Lincolnville. Visit the picturesque harbor before continuing our ride through the fields and forests of the New England countryside. Get settled at our postcard-perfect hotel, followed by our first dinner together at our favorite local restaurant.

Meals: Lunch / Dinner

Destinations: Camden, Rockport, Lincolnville

Accomplished: 16 miles / 25 km, elevation gain: 1,118 feet / 341 meters

Longer Option: 23 miles / 37 km, elevation gain: 1,870 feet / 570 meters

Accommodations: Whitehall

Island Life in Islesboro

Catch a ferry this morning out to the island of Islesboro. With just 560 permanent residents, Islesboro has long been a summer retreat for artists, actors, and writers. We'll get to know the island by bike, pedaling past rocky coves and secluded beaches to its northernmost point. No visit to the islands is complete without a lobster roll—perhaps Maine's most emblematic meal. Back on the mainland, we'll make a quick coffee stop on our way to the top of Mount Battie, the best place for pristine views of Camden Harbor. Join us tonight for another locally-sourced feast in the heart of Camden.

Meals: Breakfast / Lunch / Dinner

Destinations: Islesboro

Accomplished: 24 miles / 38 km, elevation gain: 1,148 feet / 350 meters

Accommodations: Whitehall

Lavender and Blueberries

Today we get back on our bikes and pedal out of Camden into the scenic St. George River Valley. Our farm country route is lined with lakes, forests, and spacious meadows, and we'll stop at a lavender farm where this fragrant herb flowers throughout the summer. Continue riding to a blueberry farm where we'll have a lunch featuring hand-picked ingredients and fresh lobster. After, choose to ride back to Camden or opt for a lift in the van. Tonight, we invite you to explore the local restaurant scene for dinner on your own; your guides are happy to make recommendations and reservations.

Meals: Breakfast / Lunch

Destinations: Hope, Appleton, Union

Accomplished: 27 miles / 43 km, elevation gain: 2,139 feet / 652 meters

Shorter Option: 18 miles / 29 km, elevation gain: 1,210 feet / 369 meters

Accommodations: Whitehall

North Haven

Depart mainland Maine on a boat out of Rockland. Our destination is North Haven, a New England island unlike anywhere else: formerly dedicated to farming and fishing, it's one of Maine's best-kept secrets where families return to their vacation homes for generations. From the town pier, we'll bike the entire length of the island with coastal views that stretch across the Penobscot Bay. A visit with a local oysterman piques our appetite for lunch at a picturesque organic farm. After lunch, pedal to our cozy hotel back in town to relax and explore before dinner.

Meals: Breakfast / Lunch / Dinner

Destinations: Vinalhaven, North Haven

Accomplished: 23 miles / 37 km, elevation gain: 1,246 feet / 380 meters

Shorter Option: 13 miles / 21 km, elevation gain: 702 feet / 214 meters

Accommodations: Nebo Lodge

TOUR ITINERARY

Vinalhaven

Today we'll cross the thoroughfare to North Haven's sister island: Vinalhaven. The former hotbed of a quarrying industry, we have Vinalhaven to thank for the paving stones that now line the streets in Boston and Philadelphia. Over time, the quarries have filled with water and become a refreshing place to stop for a mid-ride swim and a delicious picnic. Though Vinalhaven only measures nine miles across, it boasts nearly 270 miles of coastline, which makes boating an ideal way to explore: sail through tidal basins on the lookout for harbor seals, cormorants, and sea ducks. Later we'll return to North Haven for a festive final dinner on the islands.

Meals: Breakfast / Lunch / Dinner

Destinations: Vinalhaven, The Basin, Booth Quarry

Accomplished: 15 miles / 26 km, elevation gain: 958 feet / 292 meters

Accommodations: Nebo Lodge

6

Return to Portland

Catch a boat back to the mainland as we say goodbye to North Haven. Your guides will see you off for the drive home or transfer you down the coast to Portland before you head to your next destination.

Meals: Breakfast

Destinations: Rockland, Portland
